GrokkyAi™

The World's First AI Benefits Agent

GrokkyAi revolutionizes how employees access their benefits.

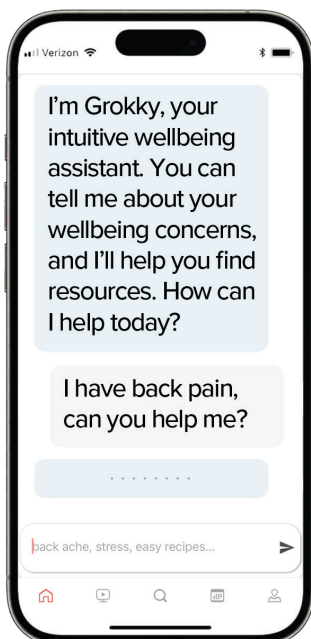

We've built the first AI-driven benefits agent that instantly connects employees to exactly what they need; no searching, no confusion, no delays.

Employees get answers in seconds flat.

Tell Grokky "I have back pain," and it directs you to your company's virtual physical therapy program. Ask "I need help with my finances," and it connects you to your financial wellbeing program. Grokky ingests every benefit your company offers and matches employees to the right programs, care plans, and federated benefits instantly.

We eliminate employee confusion — and the HR burden that comes with it.

No more tickets. No more wasted benefits. No more navigating broken portals. Grokky understands your entire ecosystem and delivers precision matching that drives utilization, satisfaction, and ROI.

HR teams gain unprecedented insight.

Grokky aggregates every employee interaction, revealing exactly what your workforce needs and how they're using benefits. This data drives smarter benefit decisions, increases utilization, and creates measurably happier employees.

We're first to market with this breakthrough.

While others build chatbots, we've created an intelligent benefits agent that understands context, delivers instant results, and transforms how companies support their people.

Grokky doesn't just answer questions, it transforms benefits into a competitive advantage
